The Intelligenter.

The folks that on the first of May Mer ones that of the life of May Wore undercoats and hose, Began to say, the first of June, "Good Lond! how hot it grows!" At last two Fahrenheits blew up, And killed two children small, And one barometer sand dead. A tutor with its ball.

Now all day long the locusts' song Among the leafless trees, Three new holels warped inside out, Their pumps could only wheeze; And ripe old wine that twenty years Had cobwebbed o'er in vain Came spouting through the rotten casks, Like Jolly's best champagne!

THEBEST The Worcester locomotives did Their trips in half an honr; The Lowell cars ran forty miles Before they checked their power; Roll brimstone soon became a drug,

Roll brimstone soon became a drt And loco-focos fell; All asked for ice, but everywhere Saltpeire was to sell. CHEAPEST Plump men of mornings ordered tights, But ere the scorching noons, Their candle moids had grown as loose. As Cossack pantaloons! The dogs ran mad—men could not try If water they would choose; A horse feil dead—he only left Fourred-hot rusty shoes.

But soon the people could not bear.
The slightest nint of fire;
Allusions to caloric drew.
A flood of savage ire;
The leaves on heat were all torn out.
From every book at school,
And many biackguards kicked and caned.
Because the said, "Keep cool."

Wall Papers!

The gas light companies were mobbed;
The bakers all were snot;
The penny press began to talk
Of lynching Dr. Nott;
Ar d all about the warehouse steps
Were angry men in droves,
Crashing and splin ering through the de
To smash the patent stoves. The abolition men and maids
Were tanned to such a hue,
You scarce could tell them from their frieuds
Unless their eyes were blue;
And when I left, society
Had burst its ancient guards,
And Braitle street and Tempie Place
Were interchanging cards.

THE CHANGE OF FASHIONS.

A General Statement—What "Le Beau Monde" Says. The July number of Le Beau Monde discourses of the prevailing fashions as follows:

If a lady were asked to express in a couple of words what changes have taken place in the fashions during the last month, she should reply, even if she did not, "shorter and skimpler." Crinoline had such a rage, and become so unbounded, that it was only natural to expect a very violent reaction. But nobody could have anticipated auch a state of things as now exists. A little more, and a long step will be a possibility. Again, ladies blessed with a profusion of hair, having dressed it in the prevailing style, and having adopted the extreme of fashion, present a very unpleasing appearance. Some judgment should be used in these matters.

very unpleasing appearance. Some judgment should be used in these matters.

For our parts, we believe the want of proportion now evident in all the fashions will be compensated by the absolute introduction of the farthingale itself, and the abandonment of the many shapes of imitation of that adjunct which the last two months have been industriously hatching, and which have this month taken something like decisive shape.

Assuredly, the hips must be draped in some manner. It is quite impossible that the totally narrow skirt, utterly unrelieved, can prevail. Of the eight figures with which we present our readers this month scarcely one is plain at the hips.

The hair is still worn at the summit of the head in Paris, but this style has not been adopted in England by the very best people.

The short-dress ball has had the effect of reducing the length of the trains, while, at the same time they are somewhat filled out behind.

The proper length of an out door dress is certainly not more than three inches from the ground, while these skirts are now relieved somewhat from their meanness of appearance, either by flat frills—sometimes two, one above the other—ruchings or flat flutings.

healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sedi-ment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the discase seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When noth ing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectorat they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

CHEAP SIMPLE! ECONOMICAL.

This wonderful invention is attracting wide-spread attention. It is a simple device; made of tin, con prising three sections, which can be used together or separately. The water which steams the food is rapidly distilled into a delicious soup. The 'Minace' is seen in the placing in one section—fowis or meats, together with cabbage, outons, turnips, potatoes, &c., &c., &c., and steaming two or three kinds of puddings at the same time—without the slightest change of flavor. It is a philosophical result which astonishes all, and has given the steamer a popularity never equalled by any cooking invention.
